

ROUNDABOUT--Supplement.

FRANKFORT, KY., MAY 8, 1886.

The remains of Mr. John Winter-smith, of Louisville, were brought to this city Thursday morning and interred in the cemetery, the funeral taking place at the Episcopal Church. This is the third member of the family which has died within the last six months.

Hon. E. H. Taylor, jr., received the following letter from Col. John Mason Brown, one of the first trustees of the Public School in this city, in reply to one written him in regard to the propriety of erecting two school buildings in this city:

LOUISVILLE, KY., April 20th, 1886.
E. H. Taylor, jr., Frankfort, Ky.:

MY DEAR SIR:—I was absent from the city in Washington last week on business connected with the contest between the gas companies of this city. For this reason it was not until yesterday that I opened and read your letter, written the 14th inst. The time for answering it with any effect had already passed, and I greatly regret that anything should have interfered with my being useful in any possible way to the effort which you and other public spirited and intelligent citizens are making for the best interests of Frankfort's public schools. Your position as opposed to any splitting of the fund or dividing the schools is unquestionably the best. This whole matter was anxiously considered and gone over at a time that the school enterprise was entered into, and every consideration of economy and efficiency of the school, the best interests of discipline and progress, and the greatest efficiency of the limited funds at hand, pointed to the same conclusion, to wit, that the school property in South Frankfort should be made the location of the entire public school system of the town. I do sincerely hope that this well matured conclusion will not be departed from.

I believe a man never knows until he has been removed for some years from the scenes of his boyhood, how really strong one's affection is for his native place. Nothing that affects Frankfort or its best interests can ever be a matter of indifference to me, and if I can in any way at any time contribute to anything that tends to the improvement or progress, or good name of our dear old town it will always be my happiness to do it. Besides this, the school system of Frankfort is a thing in which I take a sort of peternal pride. It is the one thing that I feel I can claim as having been largely developed through my advocacy.

Wishing you every success,
Yours truly,
JOHN MASON BROWN.

Bald Knob.

We proudly boast of having the largest inland subscription school in the State.

All intelligent citizens throughout Frankfort are exulting over the triumph of Prof. Thomas Hunter for Superintendent of Schools.

Crowds after crowds were unable to obtain admittance to the Grand Union Sunday-school last Sunday. Those desiring seats should come early.

A trained choir with organ, flute and clarinet, will discourse celestial music to saint and sinner every Sunday evening at three o'clock.

Rev. Bro. Graves, D. D., preached to an enlightened audience one of his select sermons on "what man should do to save his soul." It had the desired effect.

Miss Eleanor Hamilton, of Frankfort, is highly appreciated as an educator of merit. Her present school at Eden is in a promising condition. She deserves this special paragraph.

The Seabee Bros., of the Seabee saw mills, have invented a simple substitute for blacksmith's bellows, for which they have applied for a patent. They are ingenious and inventive.

Mr. Noel Lee, our talented reportorial, has recent lucrative offers made him. He will meet to-day with the Association of Teachers at Frankfort.

Maj. Eli McDaniel, our Republican candidate for Jailer, is one of the most liberal politicians in the State. The Major, like his esteemed competitor, Mr. Williams, will compromise any narrow political tenet on broad and liberal terms.

Dr. J. O. Robinson, a distinguished scientist scholar and physician has been solicited to render a few of his choice selections in elocution before the Teachers' Association to-day. The Dr., by his extensive and successful practice, is termed "the pride of the Knob."

The Box Bros. are threatening to remove their excellent Champion saw-mill for want of logs. These gentlemen, during their stay here, have won for themselves the love and esteem of all who know them. Tom is a genial social prince.

Col. Young, our esteemed humorist, was found sitting in the shade holding his rod at arm's length as if waiting for a bite. A part of the line slept in the shallow stream, while the hook with its blistered worm lay out on the dry rocks beyond. He had cast his hook beyond the stream and didn't see it. Of course no practical angler can catch fish without "the jug."

Col. Thomas B. Ford, of Frankfort, will be earnestly solicited by this and adjacent counties to accept the nomination for State Superintendent of Public Instruction. All enlightened school men throughout the State who know or have heard of the meritorious worth of this meek prince and ever zealous father of popular education will readily insist upon the blind and bridled masses to rally to the front and secure this priceless treasure for the people.

Benson.

News scarce.

Col. Dave Moore has sold his fine saddle and harness mare, Sally Staten, to Mr. Thaddeus McAndrew. Price private.

Born.—To James Moore and wife, a son—W. H. Sneed.

L. P. Hulette has purchased the Rupe farm of Mrs. J. W. Rupe, widow of Jno. W. Rupe, deceased.

A large concourse of people attended the funeral of A. J. Hulette, sr., at North Benson Church last Sunday.

Wool! Wool! seems to be the leading trade in our village. L. P. Hulette is buying.

Baby market booming. A premium on the prettiest one.

Col. George Moore wants to know about that account. George, it is only $13.10 in shoes, dresses, &c.

LITTLE BETTIE.

Bryar Ridge.

The prospect for a new crop of tobacco is a very flattering one in this neighborhood.

Dr. O. H. Reynolds passed through this neighborhood this week on a visit to his many patients.

Farmers are busily engaged in planting corn.

Mr. Lewis Lee, of Flat Creek, has rented, and will soon take in charge, the depot at Hatton.

Mr. George Mitchell says he sympathizes much with Mr. Warren Pulliam over his scare, for he was very much alarmed on finding a dead snake once himself.

Willie Goins and Bob Semonis said they were to run Pulliam's ball instead of bachelor's hall.

There was a can of coal oil found at the spring known as the Black Lick spring, which the owner can get by calling at the spring any time on two days' notice (Whose is it, Bourb?)

Our little writer, we admit she is neat, and is thought by some (Oh, Dowden) how sweet.

Mr. Lewis Cook makes a flying trip every day to the Stoney Creek toll gate to see Mr. M. Moore.

Sunday-school every Sunday evening at Bald Knob school-house, at three o'clock. Boys, take the girls.

Harper's Ferry.

Misses Maggie and Lee Rozel were the guests of Misses Lucia and Ida Sudduth Saturday and Sunday.

Born.—On Wednesday, April 21st, to Mr. Garrett Sudduth and wife, a daughter.

Sunday-school at Benson Church tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock. Everybody invited to attend.

Died.—At his home near Hatton, April 21st, 1886, Mr. Henry Young, of consumption. He leaves a wife and several children to mourn his loss. Weep not, dear friends, for your loved one. Remember that your loss is his eternal gain. He was too precious for earth. His task is finished. His work is done and he has gone to reap his golden reward on that bright and beautiful shore and rest in that calm and peaceful home prepared for him by a loving Savior and join the loved ones gone before.

U. GUESS.

Forks of Elkhorn.

Mrs. South Trimble has been quite sick.

Mr. G. Stedman was up last week calling.

Thanks to H. & J. B. Stedman for one year's subscription.

Bro. L. H. Salin and wife, of Owen, paid us a visit last Monday evening.

Mr. Henry Church, of Kansas City, Missouri, is in visiting his parents below Stedmanville.

Mrs. S. A. Young has returned from a two week's visit in Bald Knob.

Mrs. W. H. McDaniel and son, of Bald Knob, are visiting her sister here, Mrs. J. V. Crane.

Miss Clifflie Thompson, of Stedmanville, visited relatives in Midway last week.

Ignorance is bliss says Dr. Thompson—when you want to hitch a horse to a buggy and don't know how.

Miss Annie South, of Frankfort, and Miss Annie Trimble, of Mt. Sterling, are visiting their aunt, Mrs. Eliza Trimble.

The charming little belle of Bridgeville, near Peak's Mill, Miss Laura Hockersmith, is visiting Miss — Bratting near White Sulphur.

"Tis whispered that a new hotel will soon be started at Woodlake. "Competition is the life of trade," says the proprietor of the Thomas House.

Owen LeCompte, our young magnetic youth, in company with his father and Dr. Guinn, went to Georgetown last Monday, to give an exhibition of his magnetic power. They returned last Wednesday.

Mr. S. T. Saere, of Frankfort, met with an accident out here last Monday by falling from a straw rick while helping to load a wagon. It was thought he was dead, but he soon recovered and found that he was only slightly injured.

Jett's Station.

It has been sometime since we have seen anything in your newsy little paper of our progressive community.

Jett's Station is thoroughly alive, the natural consequence of having two such enterprising business men established here as Messrs. James Shaw and O. R. Crutcher. They have just completed an extensive warehouse, and are rapidly filling it with the latest and most improved agricultural implements and all kinds of the best seed. That, with the long established and well known grocery and dry goods house of L. A. Owen, renders this community quite independent.

Miss Sophia Finch, of Missouri, will spend the summer with Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Owen.

Miss Flora Lindsey, of Indiana, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. E. L. South, returned home on Wednesday.

Mr. Robert Crutcher, who has been attending Commercial College in Louisville, returned home on Tuesday, very seriously ill.

Mr. L. A. Trumbo left for Texas on Saturday. The prevailing opinion is that he will return with a valuable addition to our society in the person of his bride. When he left he thought he would be home to see the circus and the last of the Legislature.

The semi-monthly meeting of the Cooking Club met on the 29th at the residence of Mrs. A. G. Botts. There was a full attendance, about forty persons being present. The supper was a credit to the fair young cooks. There was quite a lively dance till about 2 o'clock, a. m., music by the Woodlake band. The Club is under the very efficient management of its president, Mrs. L. A. Owen.

Bridgeport.

Pleasant.

Very seasonable.

Corn planting about finished.

Garden prospects are flattering.

The wheat outlook is encouraging.

Fishing parties are now in the ascendancy.

The apple and cherry bloom heavier than usual.

Mr. C. B. Russell (Charlie) left last Monday for Chicago, where he will engage in business. May success crown his efforts.

Sheep shearing seems now to be occupying the attention of the farmers most.

Mr. John Angrave reports that he bought a few days since of Mr. R. S. Kinghead ten spring lambs at $4 per head.

Messrs. Wade & Towles have been awarded the construction of the remaining mile and $\frac{3}{4}$ of the Bridgeport and Benson pike.

Mrs. Fannie Parrent, who has been very sick during the past three months and a half, we are glad to announce, is convalescing.

The singing school closed last Tuesday night. The improvement of the class is commendable.

Mr. F. M. Scofield and daughter, Miss Alma, and Mr. James Angrave have been in Louisville since our last report.

Ice cream arrived in time.

Mrs. Jas. Harrod visited friends and relatives at Bagdad recently.

Mrs. Rebecca Crockett and daughter Miss Anna Bell, have been on the sick list a week or two.

Mrs. Carrie Robinson has returned home from a visit to her brother, Mr. R. H. Hawkins, Lexington.

Miss Anna Fultz, who has been the guest of her uncle, Mr. Wm. Miller, and family for several months, has returned to her home in Marion county.

Farm hands and teams seem to be rather more scarce than usual this season.

Miss Lillie Russell, who has been on the sick list recently, is able to assume her duties as teacher again.

Mr. R. H. Parrent, of Chattanooga, Tennessee, visited relatives in this vicinity last week.

Since the opening of spring a vast deal of improvement has been the consequence, at least so far as the election is concerned.

We again appeal to the management for a telephonic connection. No place of its size, perhaps, has more need of it than this.

Mrs. Aphia Hackley, of Grafenburg, visited friends in this town last Sunday.

Notwithstanding the busy season, this end was well represented at County Court last Monday.

Mr. Jacob Williams, who has had the chills recently, is better.

Pea Ridge

Hot and dry.

Sheep shearing commenced.

Mr. Joe. Tracy has the boss calf.

Miss Laura Graves, of Shelby, is visiting Mrs. W. Tracy.

Mr. Will Tracy has rented, and is cultivating, part of the Stephens farm on Shelby pike.

Mr. Doc. Tracy, of Anderson county, visited relatives in this village last Saturday and Sunday.

The Sunday-school here is a success, judging from the interest taken in it by the people, and the large and regular attendance since its organization.

On reading Dick Johnson's adventure with foot pads, a citizen here remarked Dick ought to carry his weapon in his hand while traveling to Leestown at night.

Bridgeport, don't fail us. We missed you last week. If you knew the number who, searching for the Bridgeport column, found only disappointment, you would feel sorry for them.

Messrs. Shanks & Jamerson, the contractors who completed the reservoir, have sent for Mr. John Burke to take charge of a division of their works in Cincinnati, where they have a $350,000 contract for street construction. Mr. B. left here Monday evening.

An Elmira man has patented a flying machine.—Boston Globe

This announcement was received with delight by the people here, for judging the future by the past in the matter of closing roads, a flying machine will be a necessity for those who wish to travel.

The small boy carried a pup to a Frankfort merchant the other day as a present. The F. M. generously gave the little fellow a quarter, which so elated him, and having another pup ordered he decided to carry the second one to town, for which he got the sum of five cents, after having to state that he was doing a strictly spot cash business.

Our poet went to work the other day and ground out the following beautiful Spring poem:

Spring, Spring, beautiful Spring,
I am sure that hot weather's a very good thing,
And I wish that—

But we all know what he wished for, and sincerely hope he got it.

Cure for Piles.

Piles are frequently preceded by a sense of weight in the back, loins and lower part of the abdomen, causing the patient to suppose has some affection of the kidneys or neighboring organs. At times, symptoms of indigestion are present, flatulency, uneasiness of the stomach, ect. Amoiature, like perspiration, producing a very disagreeable itching, after getting warm, is a common attendant. Blind, bleeding and itching Piles yield at once to the application of Dr. Bosanko's Pile Remedy, which acts directly upon the parts effected, absorbing the Tumors, allaying the intense itching, and effecting a permanent cure. Price 50 cents. Address, The Dr. Bosanko Medicine Co., Piqua, O. Sold by Hughes & Chiles.

If 'out of sorts' with headache, stomach disorder, torpid liver, pain in back or side, constipation, etc., neglect may be fatal. One dose of Bosanko's Sensitive Piles will give relief. A few doses restore to new health and vigor.
